漢陽寺

Kanyoji Temple

Located in the Kano district, this Zen Buddhist temple was established in 1374. Here, you will find seven serene and beautiful gardens, including the famously elegant Meandering Stream Garden, which integrates a stream into a dry landscape garden. As a place where you can enjoy sceneries that change with the seasons, this place is known for its autumn foliage. With a reservation, you can also experience zazen (seated Zen meditation) or copy sutras while overlooking these beautiful gardens.

Overview of Shunan City

Shunan City is located in the eastern part of Yamaguchi Prefecture. With a population of approximately 136,000 and an area of 656 square kilometers, it is nearly the same size as Singapore. The coastal area features one of Japan's largest industrial complexes as well as beautiful islands designated as Setonaikai National Park. The northern part of the city has lush forests, making this a city where industry and nature coexist in harmony. Located roughly an hour by bullet train from Fukuoka Airport and with four highway interchanges, this city is easy to access. When visiting Japan, be sure to stop by Shunan to experience traditional hot springs, historical sites, fruit picking, factory nightscapes, boat racing, and other sightseeing destinations.
